Why Do We Need Sunscreen?

The sunlight is made up of two types of harmful rays: long wave ultraviolet A (UVA) and short wave ultraviolet B (UVB). UVA rays penetrate deep into the dermis, which is the cause of premature aging, blemishes and wrinkling. Comparatively, UVB rays are easily absorbed by skin surface, and tend to damage the skin's superficial epidermal layers. It is the main cause of skin reddening and sunburn.

Sun Protection Factor (or SPF) only applies to UVB rays. The SPF number indicates the amount of time you can stay in the sun before your skin starts to redden.

PA value represents the protection against UVA rays. The level of protection is determined by the amount of plus signs. More plus signs means higher level UVA protection. Herbalife SKIN™ Protective Moisturizer SPF30/PA+++ offers the highest UVA protection now available.
